

A REVIEW OF S. S. C. FOOTBALL SEASON SHOWS ALL VICTORY.

BAY ST. LOUIS JUSTLY PROUD OF THE VICTORY MADE BY LOCAL COLLEGIATE-ATHLETES.

Football is over. Another St. Stanislaus team has finished its fight and gone down into College and Bay St. Louis history. The members of what that team was and of the real sport it furnished will live longer. No team of the past was ever so successful as the team that won the title. No team of the past was ever so well coached as the team that won the title. No team of the past was ever so well supported as the team that won the title. Before we celebrate the 1920 team to history, let us take a glance at the personnel of that team and the record of what they accomplished.

The season was short. Only six games could be played. It was impossible to schedule more because teams that should be in our class season were not here. The season was short. Only six games could be played. It was impossible to schedule more because teams that should be in our class season were not here. The season was short. Only six games could be played. It was impossible to schedule more because teams that should be in our class season were not here.

The second class, Barton academy game marked the first victory and showed us what we might reasonably expect from the team.

The 12 to 0 victory over the Navy at their own field brought the realization that we were about to go after bigger game and get it too.

The heavy lineup that we met in the Tulane game in New Orleans was backed by experienced players who had played their four years University football. It was no disgrace to lose that time, but that would have exposed our men to injury and thereby jeopardized our chances in the Jefferson game.

Then came the Jefferson game, the annual classic that game that gave us the narrow margin of a touchdown, but that indicates what we had to play against. The Jefferson team had built and coached with the sole object of winning that game. All their plays were practiced to give them the edge.

The great victory over the Navy closed such a season. The Navy team had had a great season. They had beaten us in our own field. They had beaten us in our own field. They had beaten us in our own field.

WILL CONTINUE TO DRILL ON THE COAST.

Indications are strong at Pascagoula.

PASCAGOULA, Miss., Nov. 25.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sea Coast Oil Company, held here Tuesday afternoon, it was decided in view of the splendid indications for oil at the present depth of the well and the strong showing of gas to continue the drilling to a depth of at least four thousand feet if necessary, and to resume sale of stock, the secretary being notified to instruct Dr. W. B. Clark to resume sales.

The directors were so well pleased with the indications that members present subscribed $2,760 additional stock. The drilling reported a heavy pocket of gas last Saturday and the same continues to show freely as the drilling progresses. The directors are highly pleased with the prospects. Several oil scouts of the big corporations are on the ground every day.

The 1920 football season came to an end Thanksgiving. The collegians of St. Stanislaus afforded the community a number of spirited and interesting games, contributing liberally and splendidly to the season of sports. In all the term was one that the victory to the collegians of the local gridiron. To the faculty and management that made athletics possible, to Coach Forster-Commenge who is a master in his profession and to our noble young athletes of the Rock-a-chaw tribe for their training, prowess and training, congratulations! The Echo in this column will well voice the sentiment of appreciation of the people of Bay St. Louis. The season of basket ball is now ushered in and we look forward to the initial and subsequent games.

As a drowning man grabs at a straw I began trying this remedy and that. As a last resort, though greatly discouraged, I made up my mind to try Dr. Pierce's medicines and procured Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, which I used regularly with an occasional dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to keep the bowels regular. The effects were at first slow, but with continued use of these medicines the disagreeable symptoms disappeared and the relief was permanent. I most heartily recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all suffering humanity.—Rev. GEORGE R. WOMACK, Route 1.

Unusual Styles in Negligees

A GOOD many women have the dramatic instinct that makes them enjoy masquerading in unusual styles.

Some of which are commandeered from foreign countries and some of them original or even bizarre creations which add inspiration near home.

Fabrics, passing whims of fashion, and current events lend a hand in the evolution of the latter and occasionally the garb of other lands is worked out in the fabrics of our own country, and more or less modified to suit ourselves.

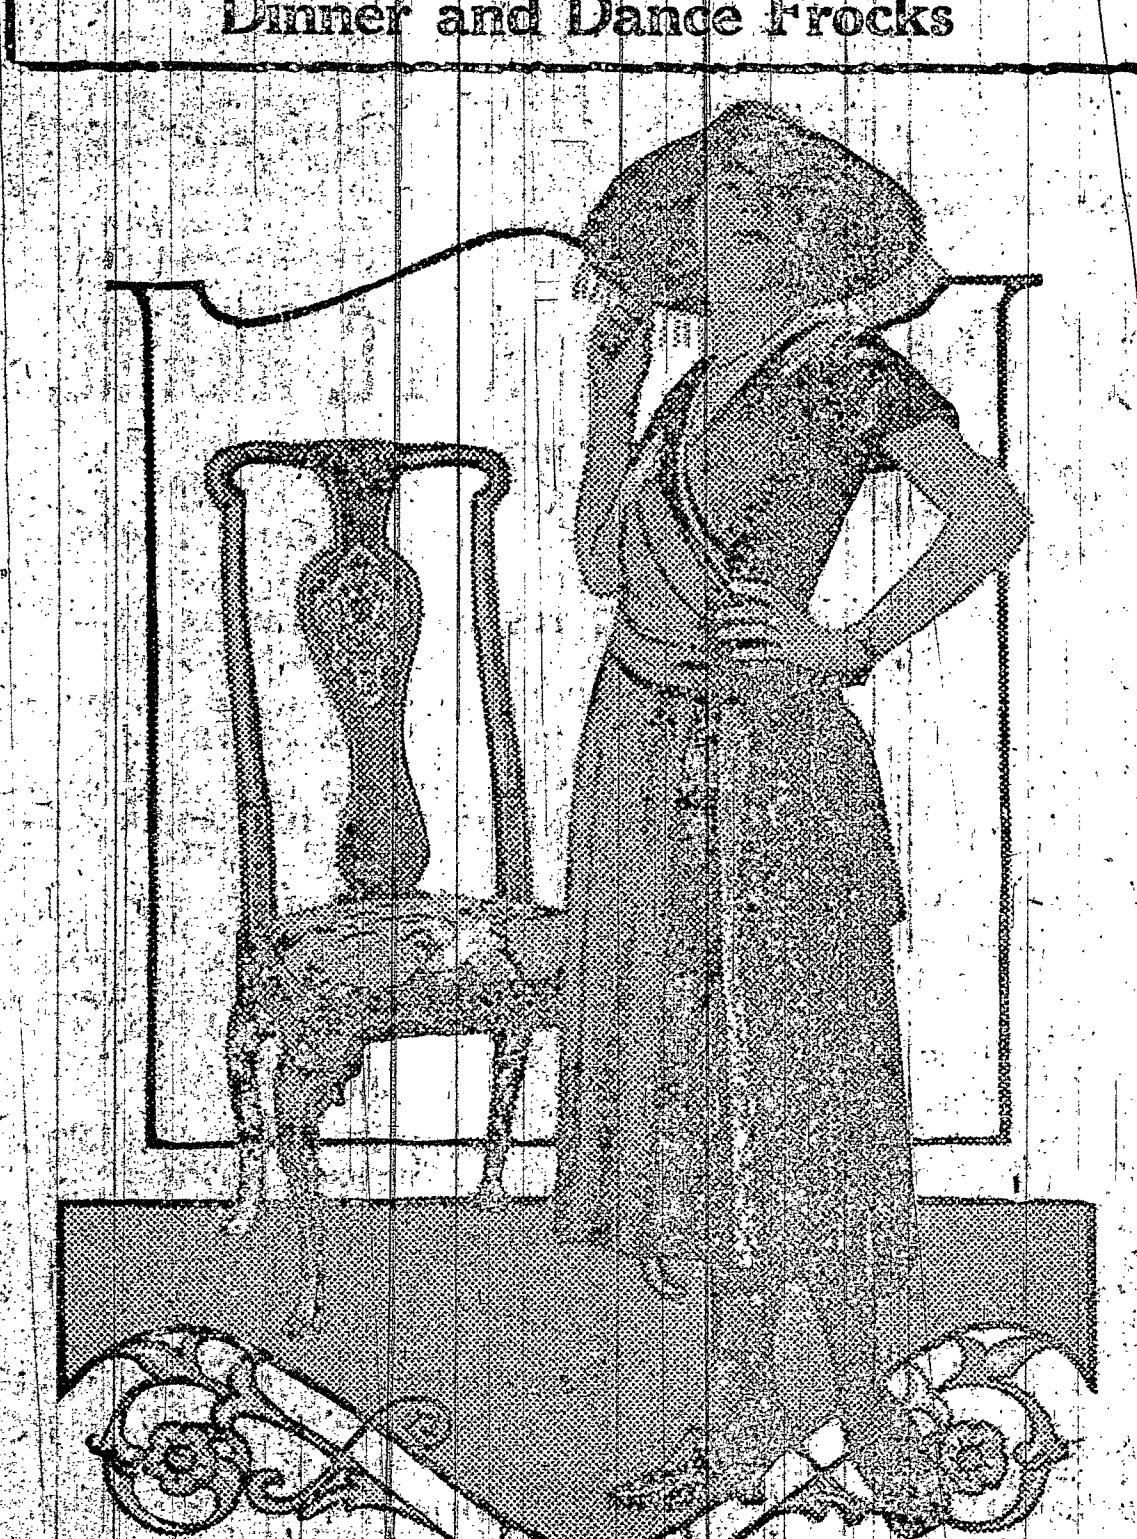

There is just one place where the woman of good taste in dress can afford to indulge her whims and fancies to her heart's content, and that is within the four walls of home.

Very definitely borrowed from the Orient in its style, the distinctive garment at the right of the picture above, is fashioned of a purely American "Mandarin" brocade and plain satin. The designer has accomplished a unique pantaloon effect in the satin and an odd and graceful drape of the brocade.

The negligee at the left is a brilliant affair in which a material known as Pan Oculat—a heavy crepe-like silk—is simply draped. One arm is covered with the most ample of sleeves and the other is uncovered. A wide sash of plain satin ribbon goes over the shoulder and a twisted girdle of it makes a luxurious rope in effect. White glass beads in a wide lattice pattern, and a frosty glitter. All this glitter of beads and sheen of silk makes the monstrous and sinister looking spider, embroidered in black beads, a horribly fascinating beastie. He seizes and holds the attention as if it were caught in his web, and that is what he was put there for. His presence might be dispensed with, for this is a quite practical style in negligees which was originally designed for exhibition purposes—hence the spider.

Dinner and Dance Frocks

SOME fabrics are so decorative in themselves that the designer they are made up the better. The effect cannot be made the background for embellishment and must play the star role themselves. Such a fabric appears in the skirt of the dinner dress, which makes a handsome dance frock as well. That is, it is a two-toned One of those heavy, crepe, two-toned skirts, that are so highly lustrous and so supple, was chosen for the full round skirt, that has its fullness disposed of at the waist line in deep, free plaits from the front and back.

Plain satin seems to be always chosen when another fabric must be combined with these two-toned silks, and plain satin it is in the case of the bodice for this dress. The satin is chosen in one of the two colors represented in the skirt. Imagine this skirt in sapphire or bright navy blue and heron, in which case the bodice would be in matching blue satin. Or in black and green, the bodice in black—in turquoise and American beauty with the bodice in turquoise. The bodice is cut surplus fashion and extended into long sash ends that lie in a bow at the left side; one end hanging half way down the skirt and the other a little below its hem.

The bodice might employ one of the crepe weaves of silk, corresponding with the skirt, in a solid color, instead of satin. Its edges at the neck and front are outlined with a narrow tinsel and silk border of embroidery. To place it in the class of the gorgeous skirt its creator has worked out an embroidered motif in tinsel and silk that makes a part of the left shoulder and over the right bust. It appears also on the long sash end. These handsome embroidered motifs finish off the frock with an important chic touch. For evening there are very pretty metallic lace dance caps to be worn with such frocks.

FELT FAGGED, NO ACCOUNT

Result of Indigestion, Headache and Other Troubles—This Tennessee Lady Took Black-Draught and Found Relief.

Flintville, Tenn.—Mrs. Addie Sanders, of this place, says: "I suffered from constipation a long time. This, of course, brought on sour stomach, indigestion and headaches. I felt fagged and no account."

"I started in taking Black-Draught. I found it was helping me. I continue to use it, and have for years. I don't know how to start to praise Theodor's Black-Draught."

"Today I am regular, no more constipation, headaches or indigestion. In fact, all I eat tastes sweet and good to me... since my liver is cleansed by the use of Black-Draught."

"I am well and proud to make this statement of what Black-Draught has done for me."

Constipation often leads to serious disorders, among those who do not understand its dangers, or who neglect to treat it without delay.

Theodor's Black-Draught is a medicine that every person should keep in the house, and use at the least sign of constipation, or torpid liver.

Theodor's Black-Draught liver medicine is right.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Help That Aching Back!
Back giving out? Tortured with dull nagging backaches and stabbing pains? Does the least exertion leave you "falling out"? Like your backache is to blame? Overwork, colds, inefficient rest and the hurry and worry of present-day living tend to weaken the back. Backache is often the first warning. Headaches and dizziness may come too, and perhaps annoying indigestion. Regularly take the over-the-counter medicine with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calomel, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calomel, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calomel on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a healthy appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calomel only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful. (Adv.)

Take one or two at bedtime or quickly after meals. They do the work without gripping.

BEADS PREFERRED TO BREAD EMPEROR FRIEND OF LOWLY

People of the Levant Set Great Stock on Colored Glass of Every Description.

Beads are more necessary than bread to the Levant. Men, women and children wear and carry beads to ward off ill-luck. Even the horses and donkeys have strands of beads about their necks "to baffle the evil eye," and the long horns of the work oxen are decorated with blue and white beads to keep them from falling prey to diseases.

In Athens, Constantinople, Tiflis, Smyrna and other cities of the Levant men of all classes carry short strands of bead necklaces, which they play with while walking in the street, riding in street cars and trains just as nervous men in the West finger their watch chains. Bead shops abound everywhere in the larger cities and general stores and market stalls sell them in the smaller places. Peddlers hawk them in the streets everywhere.

Light-colored amber beads of large size are the latest thing in beads for women. Mergschaun beads are also popular, and for the moment plain beads of all sorts have displaced highly ornate carved beads of the type which Syrians peddle in great quantities for exportation—Washington Post.

DAIRY DAIRY

DAIRY RECORD QUITE USEFUL

Profitable Practice to Keep Daily Tab on Cows Where There is No Test Association.

Keeping daily records of the milk yield of each cow where there is no cow testing association, is a profitable practice. This is shown by reports on herd records received by the United States Department of Agriculture.

An instance where a herd has been greatly improved without increasing its numbers (by more than one cow) is found in a report from Oklahoma.

Weighing and Recording Milk.

The dairyman's cream checks for a given month amounted to $78.42, the cream being obtained from a herd of 27 cows. One year later, after going herd-record work, he was able, with a herd of 28 cows, just one more than he had at the earlier date, to sell cream to the value of $223.00, or nearly three times as much—a pretty good return for care given to culling the herd and improving the management.

While the current prices for butterfat have increased somewhat, they have not trebled in a year, so it is obvious that there has been a large increase in the productivity of the herd.

WISCONSIN HAS FINE HERDS

Ranks Third Among States Active in Eradicating Tuberculosis—Minnesota is First.

Recent field reports on official tuberculosis testing in Wisconsin show large gains in the number of herds in that state accredited as being free from tuberculosis. In the month of May Wisconsin made the largest gain of any state, with an increase of 47 accredited herds. Although all reports have not yet been analyzed, the June records are expected to show Wisconsin, with a further gain of 92 accredited herds, still making the most rapid progress.

Although last year about eighth in rank compared with other states active in eradicating bovine tuberculosis, the Badger state has recently forged to third place. Minnesota is first with 500 accredited herds, and Virginia is second with 387. On July 31 Wisconsin had 302 accredited herds. The figures are from records of the federal bureau of animal industry based on field reports up to July 31, 1920.

GRIND ALFALFA AND CLOVER

Practice in Some Communities Found to Be Economical—Cattle Eat More of Salk.

Many of the dairymen who have more than 15 head of cattle would find it profitable to get a grinder large enough to grind alfalfa or clover, especially if they expect to feed mammoth clover. The practice is general in some communities to grind the stover and feed this to cows. The cattle will eat more of the stalk and the remainder makes very good bedding when mixed with the straw.

FALL FRESHENING IN FAVOR

Results in Greater Production of Milk and Butterfat According to Specialists.

Fall freshening results in greater milk and butterfat production than spring or summer freshening. The dairy husbandry specialists at the Iowa agricultural experiment station who have studied many records say that fall freshening gives about 10 per cent greater production than either spring or summer freshening.

DISCARD UNPROFITABLE COW

Better Than an Empty Stall Providing She Is Producing Offspring Better Than Herself.

The unprofitable cow does not deserve any defense nor should she be allowed to fill a stall at the farm to the exclusion of a better cow. But she is better than an empty stall provided she is given a chance to produce offspring better than herself. Then she is fulfilling a purpose.

Buy Good Produce.
If you are going to feed a cow, buy good produce. If you are going to feed a cow, buy good produce. If you are going to feed a cow, buy good produce.

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

CALOMEL DANGER TOLD BY DODSON

Says You Cannot Grip, Sicken, or Salivate Yourself if You Take "Dodson's Liver Tonic" Instead

Calomel loses you a day. You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It craters into your bile ducts, dynamite crumples and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. This guarantees to give you liver without stirring you inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic, which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR
THE FORD SEDAN

AN all weather car—this pretty thoroughly describes the Ford Sedan.

In rain or cold weather it is a cozy, comfortable, enclosed car; in warm weather, an ideal Touring Car. The plate glass windows are raised and lowered in a minute's time. The Ford Sedan is always in accord with your wishes. Finely upholstered, and equipped with electric starting and lighting system; demountable rims and tire carrier in rear; instrument board on dash; the Sedan is a car of convenience and class, and has proven a favorite family car. Yet, the reliable Ford chassis and motor are a part of the Ford Sedan and that means low upkeep cost, ease of operation, and durability. The Ford Sedan is just as popular on the farm as in the city. It fits family needs everywhere.

Come in and see the Ford Sedan. If you want one, place your order now. Orders are filled in the same sequence they are received. Make us your Ford headquarters, as we are experts with the famous "Ford After-Service."
